

Workshop:
Kant on the Self: Moral and Psychological Dimensions
University of Notre Dame, September 17-18, 2019
Decio Faculty Hall, Room 131

Program

Tuesday, September 17

15:00 Greetings/Welcome

Kant on the Self: Moral Dimensions

15:15 – 16:45 Patrick Frierson (Whitman College):
The Open Secret of Kant's Soul

17:15 – 18:45 Julia Peters (University of Tübingen):
Kant on Moral Character and Choice

Wednesday, September 18

Kant on the Self: Psychological Dimensions

9:00 – 10:30 Clinton Tolley (UCSD):
Kant on the Orders of Self-Representation

10:45 – 12:15 Yoon Choi (Marquette University):
Self-Representation and the Unity of the Self

13:30 – 15:00 Sasha Newton (University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign):
Kant on why the Self is not a Species

15:15 – 16:45 Katharina Kraus (University of Notre Dame):
Kant on Self-Knowledge and Self-Formation

17:15 – 18:45 Béatrice Longuenesse (NYU):
Kant on Consciousness and its Limits

All are welcome to attend.

Workshop organizers: Katharina Kraus (Notre Dame), Julia Peters (Tübingen).

The workshop is kindly supported by an ISLA conference award, and by the Nanovic Institute for European Studies.